

The Energy Extension, Inc.

ACCREDITED PRACTITIONER POLICY AGREEMENT

This Agreement is between The Energy Extension, Inc. (hereafter referred to as “EEI”), a Arizona corporation with its principal offices being located in Sedona, AZ, USA, and the EMF Balancing Technique® Practitioner (hereafter referred to as the “practitioner”) and is effective as of the date on the attached signature page, which is the “Effective Date” of this Agreement.

Purpose

The purpose of this Agreement is to set forth certain policies to be followed by Practitioners who have received training in the EMF Balancing Technique® from any of EEI’s Supervisory teachers. The intent of this agreement is to provide a uniform system of policies and ethics for all Practitioners, to maintain and advance the integrity and potency of the EMF Balancing Technique®, and among other considerations, to maintain and advance the value of its certificates.

This is also intended to be a legally binding agreement and Practitioners are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the policies and the spirit of the policies set forth herein, keeping in mind that such policies may be added to, deleted or modified at EEI’s sole discretion, when and should the need arise.

Failure to comply with the current policies may result in suspension and/or revocation of the Practitioners rights and certification as defined in the policies.

Copyrights and Trademarks

The terms “EMF Balancing Technique®” and the “Universal Calibration Lattice®” are protected by United States and International copyright and trademark laws and are only to be used in accordance with the written agreements between the Practitioner and EEI, or as EEI may otherwise allow in writing.

Practitioner Obligations

The essential goal of an EMF session is to allow the inner wisdom of each client to shine forth. An EMF Practitioner will always honor the unique nature of each client.

Each phase of the EMF Balancing Technique® must be performed in the sequence outlined in the EMF Practitioners’ manuals, to the best of one’s physical ability. All steps must be completed in each phase. Movements may not be added to or subtracted from the procedure.

The Practitioner must honor the policies and procedures outlined in this agreement. If a Practitioner no longer wishes to practice the EMF Balancing Technique® as required by this agreement, or in any way alters the set procedure of the EMF Balancing Technique, it is incumbent upon the Practitioner to so advise EEI, return any property that belongs to EEI, and sign a release relinquishing all rights as described in this agreement.

The intent of the previous section is to ensure that a client who comes to an Accredited EMF Balancing Technique Practitioner in any part of the world for an EMF Balancing Technique session receives the same session as in any other part of the world. If the practitioner chooses to modify or alter the session in any way, then he/she may not represent themselves as a practitioner of the EMF Balancing Technique, nor use the name “EMF Balancing Technique” to describe what they are doing.

Practitioner Rights

An Accredited EMF Practitioner may practice all four phases of the technique, those being Phases I, II, III and IV.

Practitioners who have been Accredited by EEI have the right to use the name “EMF Balancing Technique® Practitioner.” No phase of the EMF Balancing Technique® may be practiced by anyone other than an Accredited Practitioner of the EMF Balancing Technique®, nor does anyone else have the right to use the name “EMF Balancing Technique® Practitioner.”

Fees for private sessions are at the discretion of the Practitioner.

The use of EEI material in Practitioner advertising is allowed, including material from the website www.EMFWorldwide.com, but are subject to certain conditions. These conditions include, but are not necessarily limited to the following:

- Official brochures (where available) may be ordered from EEI so as to ensure continuity in its message and global identity.
- All brochures or advertising created independently must be submitted to EEI for written approval, which shall be at EEI’s sole discretion.
- The complete name the “EMF Balancing Technique®” (including the registered symbol) is to appear in any advertising, and must be the prominent feature of the advertisement. For example, explanations or subtitles, such as electromagnetic field balancing, should appear in a smaller font size.
- When you use the name the “EMF Balancing Technique®” in any internet advertising, you must include a link or reference to www.EMFWorldwide.com.
- When you use the name the “EMF Balancing Technique®” in any other advertising medium, you must include a reference to www.EMFWorldwide.com and/or the telephone number of the worldwide office in Arizona, USA. (+1-928-284-3703)
- You may use the name the “EMF Balancing Technique®” without any reference to the Official website or home office when it is being used solely to describe yourself as a practitioner of the technique, for example, in a directory listing.

Guideline for Practitioners Introductory Workshops (other than the UCL)

A Practitioner's introductory workshop should be appropriately named so it is a vehicle to introduce prospective clients to the benefits of an EMF session. A suggested title might be "An Introduction to Understanding the Energy of an EMF Balancing Technique® Session."

A Practitioner must understand that he/she may perform the EMF Balancing Technique® on others and talk about its benefits. However, only a Supervisory Teacher is allowed to teach the technique to others.

In a Practitioner's introductory workshop, the practitioner may not demonstrate a full session or pass on any of the symbols. The practitioner may not teach the EMF Introductory Session to a group. This role is reserved for Supervisory Teachers.

While individuals may learn the Introductory session from the The Lattice!® DVD, the Practitioner may only demonstrate a Introductory Session to a group. He/she may pass on any of the information pertaining to the Universal Calibration Lattice. The Practitioner may discuss information relevant to the intents and benefits of any of the four sessions.

Exit Policy

We recognize and honor each individual and their growth. We provide an exit policy as a way to honor both EEI and the Practitioner. If at any time you decide that you no longer resonate with the current policies of the EMF Balancing Technique®, we ask that you obtain a Release Form by contacting EEI at the address on the signature page.

Instructions for the signature page:

It is the intent of the Energy Extension, Inc. to continue to develop these policies along with a code of ethics appropriate for the continued growth of the EMF work.

If after carefully reading the above version of the current policies, you feel that you are in alignment with these policies, and you would like to be a part of the worldwide EMF team, please sign the Practitioner Policy Signature Form and New License Agreement - Practitioner Form and submit them to EEI, along with your completed Accredited Practitioner Internship Certificate Request Form, Website Listing & Contact Details Form and Feedback Form.

The forms are available for submission on-line at -
